LOS FELIZ ESTATE IS SUBDIVIDED

Well Known Light Estate Is Sold After Years of Inactivity

HEIRS TO BENEFIT

Sold Under Court Order, Property Cut Into Lots Now on Market

Residents on Laurel and Los Feliz road are gratified to have the property known as the Light estate, consisting of about three acres, between the two streets and just west of Brand boulevard, being subdivided and sold to persons who will improve it.

For years it has lain vacant because the inheritance which came to Mrs. Rosetta Light was entailed to her children with the proviso that it could not be distributed to them during their lifetime. Under a court order and through the agency of Arthur Campbell, it was sold about a month ago to a Mr. Whitaker who is now reselling it in lots through Mr. Campbell. The proceeds will be held in trust under the provisions of the will. As it is desirably situated between Brand and San Fernando, a part of the Los Feliz boulevard and as there are no restrictions relative to apartment houses or bungalow courts, it is going fast, having been divided into seventeen lots ranging in price from $2,000 to $3,500.

Mr. Campbell reports that William McMillan has purchased Lot 9, which faces Laurel and will improve it with a bungalow court. Lots 10 and 11 have been bought by George F. Schmall on speculation. Angelo Camillo has bought Lot 8 on Los Feliz road and will improve it. Lot 5, also on Los Feliz, has been purchased by J. M. Banker who will probably build upon it a duplex house. Chas. W. Ulrich has bought Lots 6 and 7 on Los Feliz for investement. Lots 17 and 18 have been taken by a Mr. Gray, a builder, who will improve them with dwellings.

Property in that part of the city is very active, according to Mr. Campbell. One of the recent sales was a lot on Brand about two blocks north of San Fernando for $5000.

SECRECY COVERS FESTIVAL PLANS OF MUSIC CLUB

Charter Members Assist Executive Board in Birthday Plans

At the birthday celebration of the Glendale Music club which occurs Friday night at the chamber of commerce auditorium, the program for the festivity being a profound secret, members of the executive board will be assisted by the 18 charter members who signed the first organization meeting, viz. Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. Spencer Robinson, Mrs. Catherine Shank, Mrs. L. N. Hagood, Mrs. J. A. Wright, Mrs. Vivian Webb, Mrs. Calvin Whiting, Mrs. Grace Jackson, Mrs. Gladys Gibbs Sherman, Mrs. H. R. Gibbs, Mrs. Warren Roberts, Mrs. Charles A. Parker, Mrs. Eva G. Cunningham, Mrs. Helen D. Cole, Mrs. Charles Marlenee, Mrs. Clara Lowinsky, Mrs. Nathan Rigdon, Miss Gertrude Champlain.

The refreshment committee, which is headed by Mrs. Colin Cole, includes: Mrs. Bert Woodard, Mrs. Helen Campbell, Miss Annie McIntyre, Mrs. Haskell Lapham, Mrs. O. E. Von Oven, Mrs. Charles Meadows, Mrs. A. M. Draper, Mrs. Ernest Parker, Mrs. Ella Richardson, Mrs. R. W. Meeker, Mrs. Ellen Kent.

THORNYCROFT VETS WELCOME JELLY

Disabled veterans at Thornycroft were made happy by a valentine shower of jelly and preserves from the Glendale Red Cross chapter. Some of it was given by members of the P. E. O. chapters and some by women not affiliated who have warm spots in their hearts for these unfortunate soldier lads. Mrs. Paul Wells, Mrs. Lillian Dow and L. T. Rowley made the collection, and the gifts were taken to Thornycroft by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Dow. They were most gratefully received by the veterans, who have not lost their boyish love for goodies.

THE WEATHER.

Southern California: Tonight and Friday, fair.

Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair tonight and Friday with mild temperature.

Secret of Happiness Is Earnest Work Says Henry James

Happy is the man who finds joy in his work.

As a substantial example of such a life, James W. Foley in "The Listening Post" this evening, cites Thomas A. Edison who has just passed his 75th birthday anniversary and who is planning still further activities.

According to Mr. Foley, the secret of happiness is honest work. His concluding paragraph states that "it is the treadmill pace that kills."

Suicide, the tragic climax to many lives, is commented upon by Henry James in the day's news when he discusses the case of a disappointed soul who ended his life in the environs of a cheap restaurant.

Then he goes on to speak interestingly about the tong war which is now on in the northwest and tells in no sympathetic way about the eastern saloonkeeper who lost a fortune in a swindle game.

That women are holding their own these days is the purport of Della Stewart's articles today and John Pilgrim talks about the pessimists who declare the world has gone wrong. But then you must read these features in the editorial page yourself to really enjoy them. There are many other paragraphs which will be of decided interest. We invite you to turn to that page for a half hour of real enjoyment.

CHICAGO 'PONZI' UNDER PROBE

Grand Jury to Hear Evidence of Six Million Dollar Swindle

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Grand jury probes into the "get rich quick" schemes that cost Chicago's foreign-born population more than $6,000,000 were started today.

E. S. Hodges, assistant state's attorney said he would take witnesses before the jury and ask for the indictment of Leslie Harrington who fled two leaps ahead of police who raided his offices.

Harrington, according to his office aides who were arrested, borrowed nearly $1,000,000 on personal notes from Lithuanians after promising to pay as high as 100 per cent interest.

The case of Raymond J. Bischoff, youthful "wizard" of the stockyards district, who crashed for $4,500,000, will be considered by the investigating body tomorrow.

Bischoff is under arrest, charged with operation of a confidence game.

The affairs of Charles Apple, head of the latest finance company to come under federal scrutiny were probed by state and federal authorities today.

GOT TO JUDGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—A shivering man without an overcoat walked into Judge McMahon's office. A few minutes later he walked out, not shivering, wearing a swell top coat. Then the judge walked out coatless. But he didn't yell "police." He gave the man the O. O.

HEARING IS DEFERRED ON CITY BUS

Utilities Board Advises Council Impossible to Decide Now

HOLLYWOOD IS FIRST

After Decision Reached on Film Town Glendale Considered

With regard to the request from the city of Glendale for a permit to operate a bus line on certain streets of Los Angeles, which would constitute a portion of the proposed Glendale municipal bus line between these two cities, the board of public works of Los Angeles will formally inform the delegation from Glendale at 2 o'clock this afternoon that it will be impossible for it to bring down a decision in this matter before February 24, at which time the matter of the Hollywood rate hearing will be decided by the state railroad commission.

The delegation representing Glendale that waited on the board of public works this morning in Los Angeles was comprised of the members of the city council, City Manager Reeves, City Attorney Woodward, and others. The hope of this delegation was that it would be granted the desired permit at once so that they could go ahead with further steps looking toward the establishment of the municipal bus line. City officials are absolutely in earnest in this municipal bus line proposition and they want the people of Glendale to realize that fact.

At the session of the Glendale delegation and the public works committee this morning, nothing definite was done. The scrappers from Glendale were asked to "call around at 2 o'clock this afternoon." They went away happy at the thought of having a great big Los Angeles "feed" before returning to Glendale.

At the meeting this afternoon the Glendale council will make formal application for the desired permit, and the members will be informed that the board cannot give an answer on this subject before

54TH ANNIVERSARY OF ELKS LODGE IS CELEBRATED

One Million Americans in World Mark Passing of Today

The dawn of February 16, 1922, marks an anniversary of keen interest to nearly 1,000,000 American men.

Fifty-four years ago—on February 16, 1868—a little group of fourteen men sat in a stuffy room in New York City. Twice they voted on a matter they had been debating for weeks. On the second ballot, the now almost-forgotten fraternal order of the "Jolly Corks" was disbanded. And the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was born.

The first membership report in the archives of the Elks is dated December 27, 1868. New York Lodge No. 1, the Mother Lodge of the order, was then its only lodge. There were 76 members on the rolls.

The fifty-fourth anniversary of the Order's birth shows a membership of more than 818,000 Elks in more than 1,400 lodges that dot the United States of America. At Anchorage, Alaska, the fartherest north Elk lodge stands amid almost polar ice and snow. Elk lodges rise at Brownsville, Texas, and Key West, Florida—fartherest southern points of the continental United States. Our canal zone has its lodge at Balboa Heights. Our island possessions are starred with Elk lodges at Manila in the Philippines, at Honolulu and Hilo in Hawaii, at Guam, and at San Juan in Porto Rico. And the Elks of America are working to initiate their millionth member by July, 1922, when the grand lodge meets at Atlantic City.

The founder of this organization was a strolling English actor. He never lived to know how well he and his little group of brother-actors had builded.

His body rests today in Mount Hope cemetery, Boston, Mass., beneath a great granite boulder bearing a bronze plate with the inscription:

"Charles Algernon Sidney Vivian, Founder of the Order of Elks. Died March 20, 1880. Aged 34 years. A lover of his kind, who founded a great Order and in so doing wrought much good."

Vivian, who was the presiding "Jolly Cork" at the momentous meeting in 1868 when the fourteen

Beautiful View Is Seen From Hills of Glendale

By JOHN H. GERRIE
Prosperity Editor Glendale Daily Press

There are so many beauty spots in and around Glendale that it is difficult to set any one apart as more attractive than the others. But there is one beauty spot that is equal to any other and a strange thing about it is that it has been almost overlooked.

If you have never gone out Broadway past the new high school site and at the point where Broadway runs into Wilson street—if you have never turned a little to the left and climbed up the gentle slopes of the San Rafael hills and looked at the panorama of Glendale and the San Fernando valley—well, if you have never done this you have missed one of the sights of your life.

John H. Gerrie

But, if you have done this and if you have climbed a little higher to the crest of the San Rafael hills and the day has been clear, as it almost is sure to have been, then you must have looked through the Los Feliz gap and have seen in the distance the sparkling Pacific ocean and the purple gray outlines of Catalina island.

And wasn't it a picture? As you turned in your admiration, right beside you were the green Verdugo hills, to your left the picturesque city of Eagle Rock and back of you the majestic Sierra Madre range with Mt. Lowe, Mt. Wilson and other peaks, some snow covered, in plain view.

You never before had realized that such a view, embracing ocean and mountains and valleys, was to be had anywhere in Glendale, did you?

CITY MANAGER TELLS PROBLEMS

Mr. Reeves Is Speaker Before High School Association

City Manager William H. Reeves faced a good audience and a most attentive one when he addressed members of the High School Parent-Teacher association Wednesday afternoon on city problems. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Wyman, the vice-president, Miss Maude Soper, presided.

He said he found himself in a familiar and congenial atmosphere because he, too, had been a teacher, and never had he met a finer body of disinterested citizens than when he was a teacher in Lincoln high school, under the principalship of Miss Andrus, who is now a resident of Glendale.

Three problems were mentioned, the first, transportation. He explained the present situation under the increase in Pacific Electric fares and asked those present to support the city officials to the point of voting bonds, should it become necessary, for the establishment of a municipal bus line

SYMPATHETIC RAIL STRIKE IS BARRED

Railway Unions Forbidden to Actively Support Coal Miners

CLEVELAND, Feb. 16.—Railroad workers of America will not join a strike in sympathy with miners, proposed April 1, if operators fail to meet wage scales announced at the miners' Indianapolis convention, a high official of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, told the United Press today.

"We have very specific regulations governing this point," he declared, "rules, which forbid us to enter sympathy strikes."

All during negotiations which led to the announcement of the joint railroaders-miners conference in Chicago February 21, brotherhood leaders maintained they would not go as far as to call a strike in sympathy with the miners, though intimating the "economic interests," of the two labor bodies were closely allied. Railroaders are expected to give "moral and financial support."

CORKSCREW IS MODEL OF TRAIL

Aviators may lay claim to records for looping-the-loop in the air, but the Southern Pacific company can justly lay claim to these laurels on the ground, as shown by the fact that in one 170-mile stretch of track over the Siskiyou mountains it makes a complete circle 18 times.

FIR PILING ORDERED

An order for 200,000 pole feet of fir piling for use in bridges and other construction work has just been placed with Elmer Russell, an Oregon contractor, according to an announcement by Southern Pacific company.

The piles will range in diameter from 14 to 20 inches and in length from 25 to 75 feet.

BONUS PROBLEM STILL UNSETTLED

Congress Hopes President Will Advocate Feasible Financing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—A general sales tax offers the only practical means of providing a soldier bonus at this time, President Harding declared in a letter which he will send to Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee today, Representative Longworth, Ohio, said, after a conference with the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Congress was still floundering about today to provide a way for soldier bonus funds and hoping against hope that President Harding would advocate a modified sales tax or some other workable settlement.

Congress itself had no single fund-raising plan on which the majority could agree. His letter to congressional leaders was again looked for today, though house and senate conferees said they had had not definite word as to when to expect it.

The much favored house idea of meeting the bonus payments through savings on appropriations, especially in the army and navy, was meeting difficulties. Many began to think the scheme a bit fanciful. Some said that method would be equivalent to passing a bonus measure without actual machinery for raising the funds, as in reality the treasury department would have to rustle up the "savings." Then, if deficits came later, as many admit they would, the treasury would have to fall back on congress for new appropriations—in other words, new taxes.

SALVATION ARMY LEADER DUE TODAY

En route to Santa Barbara from Los Angeles to greet Miss Evangeline C. Booth, commander of the Salvation Army forces in the United States, Brigadier C. R. Boyd, divisional commander of the organization in Southern California, stated that all plans for public receptions for Miss Booth on her present trip will be abandoned.

Brigadier Boyd announced, however, that speaking engagements and all lectures on the program scheduled for the noted leader will be filled in Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Diego and Long Beach.

An official welcome by Mayor Cryer is one of the outstanding features of the program arranged for Miss Booth's visit to Los Angeles when she arrives at noon today, accompanied by members of her staff, Brigadier Boyd and his staff.

The reception and other entertainment features of the program originally arranged for Miss Booth on her visit to Southern California were eliminated because of her recent strenuous speaking campaign over many western states and in Honolulu.

MRS. DAVIS RETURNS

Mrs. Lem C. Davis arrived at her home Friday, after a ten days' stay at the California hospital in Los Angeles. She brought with her a husky seven-pound youngster who has been given the title of "Milton H." Both mother and child are doing nicely. Papa Davis is manager of Grand View memorial park.

300 PEOPLE WILL ATTEND THE FORUM

All the Places Have Been Taken for Big C. of C. Gathering

BE PREMIER EVENT

Function Gains Impetus as Closing Hour Approaches

The tables are all spread for the mammoth forum banquet and meeting to be held tonight by the Glendale chamber of commerce at its headquarters on South Brand boulevard. The 300 seats have been spoken for. In fact, the "extra list" was closed last night, and it is understood that there are many members of the association who are requesting admission. The fondest hopes of those in charge of the affair have been realized so far as the attendance is concerned.

The affair to be held tonight promises to be high-class in every particular. In addition to the excellent program that will be rendered, considerable business of interest to Glendale will come before the session, and demand action. By the excellent reservation of seats the people of Glendale have shown conclusively that they are "right on their toes" when it comes to boosting and working for Glendale. Of the large crowd that attended the formal opening of the chamber a short time ago, some claimed that the unusual attendance was brought about by the fact that the members present wanted to see the new home of the chamber. By the way the reservation list for this event was filled, and the enthusiastic attitude shown by every one who intends to be present, it proves that these assertions were incorrect, and that the members of this organization are truly interested in the progress of their city.

As this will be the first anniversary of the birth of the chamber of commerce, the inevitable birthday cake will be a feature. To Mrs. Bert P. Woodard, wife of City Attorney Woodard, has been accorded the honor of "building" this anniversary cake. The presentation of the cake will be ac-

LODGE BATTLES FOR RE-ELECTION

Democratic Leaders Attack Senate Leader in Home State

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge faces the battle of his career in his campaign for re-election. The fight against Lodge is becoming a national issue, rather than one confined to his state—Massachusetts.

Democratic national leaders are trying to get together on a plan to give Lodge a dose of the "political downfall medicine" he was instrumental in administering to Wilson. At present Lodge has an advantage through a division in democratic ranks as to how the attack of revenge shall be launched against him.

James M. Cox, democratic presidential nominee in the last campaign, who bitterly assailed Lodge as the "arch-conspirator of the ages," favors attacking the Massachusetts senator for his work in defeating the league of nations and plans to make a personal invasion of the state.

METHODISTS CARE OF AGED SERVANTS

CHICAGO, Feb. 0.—Pensioners of the Methodist Episcopal church, which includes its retired ministers, their widows and dependent orphans, received $2,350,000 in 1921. Report to this effect was made by Dr. Joseph B. Hingeley, Chicago, corresponding secretary of the board of conference claimants.

The amount for pensions in 1908 was $600,000, he reported, while now the amount needed is $3,000,000 a year.

The pensioners include 3295 ministers, 3787 widows and 764 children.

Twenty-seven retired ministers are over 90 years of age. The grand patriarch of the church is Rev. Seth Reed of Flint, Mich., who was born June 2, 1823. Rev. Edward S. Best of Malden, Mass., was born September 3, 1824.

THOMAS INCREASES BOWLING SCORE

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Harry Thomas, Braddock, Pa., increased his lead in the world's classic bowling tournament here today, his score being 271 7-50 points in 60 games. F. Kafora of Chicago is second with 261 15-50 in 60 games and S. Thoma of Chicago is third with 251 32-50 in 55 games.

PREFERS STARVATION TO EXECUTION

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—"Let me starve," pleaded the emaciated Harvey Church today as carpenters hammered together the scaffold on which he is to die tomorrow. Church started on a hunger strike to cheat the gallows 27 days ago. Church, 23, killed Bernard Daugherty and Carl Ausmus, motor car salesmen.

POLICE HUNT MASTER GUNMAN

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—New York police today captured Henry Nielson, 25, alleged master bandit. He is believed to be chief of the gang of gunmen that is responsible for numerous bold robberies during the last few weeks. Nielson is declared by police to have confessed to participation in several big jobs. They expect further confessions and predict his arrest will result in breaking up of outlaw gangs in the underworld.

PRIESTLY SLAYER IS ON TRIAL

MONTREAL, Feb. 16.—The prosecution of the case of Father Adelard De Lorme, charged with murdering his half brother, Raoul, is seeking evidence today concerning the priest's movements the night of the crime. It is alleged Father De Lorme took Raoul for an automobile ride, shot him and threw his body out at the roadside, the motive being to get his estate and life insurance. Neighbors of Father De Lorme told investigators they heard the engine of his car running at 11 p. m. the night of the murder.

OBENCHAIN TRIAL FEATURES TURBAN

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16.—The state prepared today to introduce an alluring navy blue turban with its flimsy dotted veil, as an exhibit in the trial of Madalynne Obenchain, accused as a conspirator in the murder of John Belton Kennedy. The turban is alleged to have been the one worn by Madalynne when, according to the prosecution, she called at the Russell hotel to see Arthur C. Burch and to watch from the windows of Burch's room the movements of Belton Kennedy in his offices across Broadway. Hotel attaches will be asked to swear to the identity of Burch's mysterious visitor.

REALTY BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Five New Members Are Enrolled in New Organization

About 35 realtors assembled for the business session of the Glendale Realty Board Wednesday night at the chamber of commerce over which Cameron Thom presided, with Secretary Hayward taking the minutes.

There were no speakers and the chief subject of discussion was plans for the entertainment of visiting delegates to the state convention to be held in May for which all the realty boards of Southern California are planning big things.

Five new real estate firms applied for membership, bringing the enrollment to 35.

Members congratulated each other on the rapid but healthy growth of the organization which is realizing the benefit of co-operation and uniform listings of prices and commissions, as well as in advertising to boost the city such as is being done in the March number of the Arrowhead of which 50,000 copies will be printed and distributed on Union Pacific trains, the entire issue being devoted to articles on Glendale.

The next meeting will be a luncheon at the Glen Inn next Wednesday noon.

WOODLANDS ORGANIZES TO BOOST

Improvement Association Formed by Residents of District

SEEK BETTERMENTS

Bohn of Canada Boulevard, Chairman, Mrs. Butler, Secretary

A rousing meeting of property owners and residents of the Verdugo Woodlands district was held Saturday evening, February 11th at the store of R. D. Estes on Canada boulevard, with the purpose of taking action to obtain needed improvements. In the neighborhood of 100 persons were present. Owing to the shortness of the time many residents could not be seen or notified for this meeting.

Mr. G. D. Mason of El Rito avenue called the meeting to order and suggested the election of a chairman. On motion John L. Bohn of Canada boulevard and Wabasso Way was elected chairman and Mrs. J. R. Butler of 1631 Del Valle avenue, was elected secretary and treasurer. By subsequent action the temporary officers were made permanent.

Following the organization of the meeting talks were made by several citizens as to the needs of the residents of the 'Woodlands' and stating reasons why they should insist on the improvements.

Among those who talked were H. B. Woodill, E. C. Boynton, Mrs. J. R. Butler, George A. Cleveland, Jr., C. E. Denny, R. D. Estes, Mrs. Alfred G. Potts and Mr. S. W. Stern. It was pointed out that the most urgent need is gas, as yet not brought into this portion of Glendale.

Other subjects discussed were street lighting, street improvements, on streets not heretofore improved, and taxation. Much valuable information was brought out on these subjects, and the method of solving the problems were discussed quite fully.

It appeared from data furnished, this district of the city has been third in amount of taxes paid, but no one could recall where any part of the money thus paid had been

SHRINE DANCE IS BRILLIANT SOCIAL FUNCTION

Sixty Couples Take Floor in Initial Affair in C. of C. Auditorium

One of the most brilliant social affairs of the season was that of the Shrine club's valentine dance, given Wednesday night in the chamber of commerce auditorium. The hall was attractively decorated in the Shrine emblems and flags. The affair was officiated over by Julius Kranz, vice-president, in the absence of C. E. Neale, president. There were about 60 couples present, who spent a most enjoyable evening dancing to the strains of a six-piece orchestra. Delicious and refreshing punch was served. The committee in charge included Robert R. McKenzie, W. S. Rattray, Eddie Waxman and H. C. Vandewater, and great credit is due them for the success of the evening. During the course of the evening the ladies were all presented with favors in the form of a valentine Shrine cap, which added much to the jollity of the affair.

The club plans to have their next dance on the evening of March 15, and the affair promises to be an "Irish" one, coming so near St. Patrick's day.

NATIONAL ORANGE SHOW IS MECCA OF BUSY MEN

Rotarians, Chambers of Commerce Called to San Bernardino

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 16.—Rotary, Lions, and Progressive Business Clubs of Southern California are to rally at the National orange show. Special days have been set aside for all these clubs, the Rotarians having Tuesday, February 21; the Progressives, Wednesday, February 22; and the Lions Thursday, February 23.

On each of these days the San Bernardino club of each of these organizations will entertain the visiting members at a banquet and program, giving them opportunity to spend ample time at the orange show where special stunts are to be staged in their honor.

Hundreds of Rotarians are expected on Tuesday. On Wednesday the charter banquet of the Progressives will be held and Governor Stephens, a charter member of the Sacramento Club, has been invited to attend. On Thursday the Lions also entertain the governor, that being his day at the show.

On Saturday, February 25, the Los Angeles Ad Club will come to the show several hundred strong, bringing with them a special program of stunts and features that are to be staged in the big fruit tent.

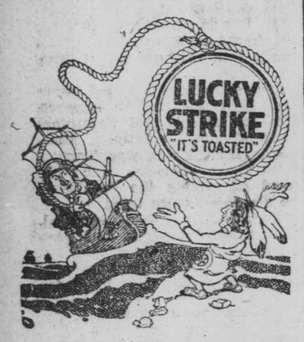

The coming Sunday several hundred agents and employes of the Pacific Electric accompanied by the Pacific Electric band will attend the show in a body.

SHORT DRESSES SHOWN

PARIS, Feb. 16.—Unionettes of the Maison Dorat today paraded before the public at the spring exhibition wearing evening gowns with lower necks, a still lower belt line and with trains three to four feet long.

Makers of fashion say what has happened is that gowns are hung lower on the wearer. Women will expose shoulders this spring instead of limbs.

Apple green and purple form the favorite colors worn by the models or Dorat. Plain white is also popular, but black has entirely passed.

LEGION NEWS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—A huge government project for care of disabled soldiers, as provided in the $16,000,000 appropriation of the Langley act—has already been drawn up, it was learned at the war veterans' bureau today.

The plan, which will be announced when the bill has passed congress, provides:

Establishment of 14 insane hospitals in specified districts throughout the country.

Building of a half dozen or more tuberculosis hospitals.

Construction of these hospitals to provide homes for soldiers within 25 years.

AIRMAN TO FLY TO WORLD'S TOP

MacReady Plans Flight to Where He Expects to Explode

DAYTON, O., Feb. 16.—Lieutenant J. A. MacReady, holder of the world's altitude record, is preparing to fly to the ceiling of the world—the altitude at which he estimates his body will explode.

MacReady, unsatisfied with his flight record of 40,800 feet, revealed to the United Press today that he is building a super-charger to carry him 55,000 feet into the air. Before he reaches the top of the world his body will brust like a balloon because of lack of pressure, MacReady believes.

"The importance of the revelations expected justify the experiment regardless of the consequences to myself," MacReady said.

LIFE OF PAINT IS BEST TEST

"The people of Glendale are getting away from the belief that any old paint will do, when it comes to painting their homes," said Mr. Stevens of the Stevens paint store, 219½ East Broadway, this morning. "They are beginning to see that the better class of paint is the cheapest in the end, and that cheap paint is expensive at any price. We believe that the Patton Sunproof paint is as good as any on the market, and that Pitcairn varnishes cannot be excelled.

"It is a fact when the first application of the paint is concerned the better grade of paint is as cheap as cheap paint. Where a gallon of cheap paint will cover 250 square, the same amount of better-grade paint will cover 350 square. In addition the better grade paint will not wash off as will the cheap material. There is a good demand for paints of all kinds, this showing that building in Glendale is continuing brisk."

"MOLLY-O" ENDS DATE AT T. D. & L.

"Molly-O," featuring Mabel Normand, the Mack Sennett superproduction that has enjoyed a tremendous popularity at the T. D. & L. theatre, will be shown for the last times today. No use repeating that it is truly a remarkable and most enjoyable picture. As a warning, however, to those who have not seen "Molly-O," today's showings at the T. D. & L. theatre will be the last in Glendale and if you are planning to see it let this announcement act as a final notice.

Tomorrow, the regular week-end vaudeville road show will be the attraction offered, together with the feature film, "Habit," a First National picture.

MOORE STARTS ON LAWSON BLOCK

Harry Moore, proprietor of the pain store at 304 East Broadway, is just finishing the painting of the several school buildings in Eagle Rock. He is about to start the work of painting the Lawson block on North Brand boulevard. He has a crew of 12 men who are kept busy all the time, and the prospects are that other workmen will have to be added within a short time.

Mr. Moore specializes in Sunset paints and Kyanize enamels and varnishes, for which he is sole agent in Glendale.

WANT TO VOTE? CALL GLEN. 1505-W

Mrs. Minette Sherman, who lives at 316 Ethel street in the rear, announces, for the convenience of voters, that she will have supplies at her home for the coming two weeks and will be able to register voters who were missed during the house to house canvass. She also states that she can be reached by telephoning Glen. 1505-W, and if it is possible for her to do so, will make appointments to register at their homes, voters who cannot visit her. Ethel street is a short thoroughfare, the first street north of Louise street bridge.

EASTMAN IS POPULAR.

A. R. Eastman finds that being a banker is the next thing to being on a standing reception committee for all the distinguished visitors to Glendale inspect the banks. Rev. Blue of Pasadena was a visitor in Glendale Tuesday and called upon Mr. Eastman. Mr. Cassidy, president of the new State Bank at Sixth and Western avenues, Los Angeles, which is building a $300,000 banking house, visited the State Bank of Glendale Wednesday to get up-to-the-minute ideas for his building.

No matter how high a man may fly, he's got to come down to earth occasionally for board and lodging.

PROSPERITY WAITS ON PEACE IN ERIN ISLAND

Leaders New Free State Have High Hopes of National Growth

DUBLIN, Feb. 16.—Leaders of the Free State party have high hopes for Ireland's future, economically as well as politically.

They expect establishment of the Free State to be followed by an influx of capital, building-up of firmly established industries, reduction in taxes and general peace and prosperity.

The new nation will begin its life on a sounder financial basis than any country in Europe involved in the world war.

Though under the treaty Ireland will assume a proportion of the British war debt, this will be offset largely by claims for damages in the recent fighting in Ireland. Many of these will not be prosecuted as strongly against the Free State as they would have been against England. And they will not carry the interest England is carrying on her debts, and which force a 30 per cent income tax in England and Scotland.

Irish business men are enthusiastic over the new prospect. Already business is picking up in Dublin. British investors are glad to get their money into Ireland, apparently, and the outlook is good.

It is quite likely that there will be large withdrawals of capital from England by Irish investors, and Irish companies. As to the former, with the hope of smaller income tax, unless there is some exemption for Irish investors—and exemption would cause protests from Dominion investors, because they were not included—they must continue to see their dividends on their British holdings shorn by British income tax. They are likely to withdraw their capital and put it into Irish companies, with the hope of smaller taxes.

As to the latter, many huge Irish companies are registered in England, and their stock is subject to income tax. The Guinness company, makers of the famous stout, is one. It has 7,000,000 pounds capital.

So far there has been no authentic indication as to what taxes in Ireland will be. And there has been no solution offered for Irish investors. Officials of the Free State party have been so busy in effecting the transition from British to Irish rule that they have had little time for internal constructive problems.

With the prospects of a bitterly-fought campaign to obtain approval of the treaty at the forthcoming election they will have little if any time to prepare legislation.

MOVIE CREDIT IS LATEST NOVELTY

Purchase Amusement on Installment Basis Is New Idea

CLEVELAND, Feb. 16.—"Credit customers welcome."

This sign appears across the front of the Priscilla theatre, a movie house, in the heart of the downtown district.

Any person in Cleveland who is unemployed can open a charge account, declared S. M. Manheim, one of the owners.

Each customer is allowed to attend one show a week on credit and the bills are payable every 20 weeks.

In securing a credit permit, each applicant need only sign a statement he is out of regular employment, giving the name of the firm where last employed. These permits may also be used by dependents.

Hundreds of unemployed men have taken advantage of the credit shows.

"No, I do not fear these bills will be unpaid," Manheim declared. "I am glad to help those who cannot secure employment, and I know when they find a position they will pay in full."

This is believed to be the first "credit movie" in the United States.

Other shows also remain open all night so unemployed men may sleep there, out of the cold.

THE REASON

A colored preacher in Alabama was one day talking to one of his aged parishioners, who ventured to express the opinion that ministers ought to be better paid. "I'se sho' glad to hear yo' say dat," responded the parson warmly. "I'se pleased dat yo' think so much of de ministers. So yo' think we'd ought to get bigger salaries?" "Sho' I does," said the old man. "Den we'd get a better class o' men."

ABOUT DROUGHTS

William Allen White, the Kansas editor, was talking about droughts. "One summer during a terrible dought," he said, "a tourist was passing through Arizona. He put up one night in a town so dried up that even the trees had yellowed and withered. 'Does it ever rain here?' the tourist said to the landlord of the hot dusty hole. 'Rain?' said the landlord. 'Why stranger, there's 5-year-old bullfrogs in this here town wot ain't never learned to swim yet."

Experts have estimated that men to eight among men. be produced each year from India's bamboos and grasses.

In spite of all those memory courses the magazines tell about, as many men as ever forget to pay their debts.

SENIOR GIRLS WIN FROM THE JUNIORS

Two senior class teams and two junior class girls' basketball teams played against each other Tuesday afternoon at Glendale high. In the first game the score was 8 to 0 in favor of the seniors, and in the second game 8 to 10 in favor of the seniors.

Girls who played on the senior teams were: Jumping center, Clover Johnson; running centers, Vera Hayden and Ethel Burke; forwards, Lulu Drake, Lucy Strother and Mida Rutler; guards, Dorothy Cotton, Lucile Nelson and Violet Dixon.

On the junior teams were: Jumping centers, Oral Hester and Ruth Hent; running center, Doris Moyse; forwards, Thelma Carver, Marian Gray, Gladys Buttin and Marian Rowley; guards, Dorothy Crook, Gertrude Heideman, Lura Baldwin and Edith Busch.

On the junior team four baskets were made by Marian Gray. Baskets to the credit of the seniors were about evently divided between Lucy Strothers and Lulu Drake.

Juniors were handicapped by not having on the team two forwards who usually play.

Three 6-minute thirds were played in each game.

NAVAL STATION IS THREATENED

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 16.—The United States navy is reported to have again notified the municipal authorities of Cavite that unless the town is better policed and kept more sanitary, the naval station will be removed to Olongapo, on Subic bay, a place kept ship-shape through navy supervision of affairs. In Cavite 17 saloons have licensed on one street and one or two more are in prospect. Brawls between sailors and marines and civilians are frequent.

McCarthy Has Faith In City

An important event has taken place within the last few days that will bring Eagle Glen Heights prominently before the public. Los Angeles capitalists have become interested financially in the development of the heights. Some one drove out to see where Glendale had selected a site for a new high school. Then some one climbed the hills and was so entranced with the view that others were attracted to the spot. Then a syndicate was formed, the land acquired, landscape gardeners and architects inveigled to the spot, with the not strange result: A high class subdivision is to be placed on the market right away.

It is peculiarly appropriate that the realty concern that pioneered in Glendale subdivisions in 1907 will handle the Eagle Glen Heights development on the San Rafael hills. This is the J. Harvey McCarthy company that fifteen years ago bought a tract of land west of Central avenue at $600 per acre from L. C. Brand and Henry Huntington. This they improved and subdivided, putting in and naming Arden, Burchette and Patterson streets and Pioneer drive. Lots of 50-foot frontages were sold at $275 to $500. The same lots are valued today at $1500 to $5000.

Eagle Glen Heights is handsomely wooded, live-oaks predominate. The tract is to be graded and terraced and improved in every modern manner, even to the additional planting of shade trees along the paved drives. In keeping with the characetr of the land and improvements, single residences must cost not less than $5000, and stand back of a building line of 20 to 35 feet from the sidewalks, depending on the contour of the hills. No temporary structures of any kind will be permitted on the tract.

To further popularize both tracts, J. Harvey McCarthy will revert to an old custom, now almost forgotten, of presenting a solid silver mug to the mother of the first baby born in a new house either in Eagle Glen Heights or Rolland Square.

All of which proves the enterprise of J. Harvey McC. and his faith in the future of Glendale.

WAR VETERANS ARE BACK AT SHERMAN

Studying Professions as Vocational Men to Fit Them for Life

CAMP SHERMAN, Chillicothe, Ohio, Feb. 16.—War heroes back in Camp Sherman today were engaged in studying professions which will enable them to go out in the world within a year's time and earn a living.

Paid at the rate of $100 a month and given free board and lodging, several hundred ex-service men were students of Uncle Sam's first army vocational university which fits men to become plumbers, mechanics, tailors, shoemakers, launderers, sign painters, farmers and electricians.

The ex-service men, dubbed "trainees," have taken to the vocational school idea and though the program for their education is rather meager at present, they are working hard.

The school at present is a ponderous thing. Large camp buildings, being used as schoolrooms, are a considerable distance apart and it is a long walk between classes. This difficulty, together with the fact that when the school started instructors were forced to go easy with the "train-ees," resulting in what looked like inefficiency to the outsider, has resulted in strong condemnation of the school.

But authorities in charge believe that in six months the situation will be entirely changed and that critics of today will thoroughly approve of the school.

Red tape in Washington in getting appropriations, has interfered with plans for the development of the school. Some "trainees" who were dissatisfied with the manner in which efforts were made to get them to work learning a profession also caused criticism to be heaped upon the school.

There are between two and three hundred "train-ees" here. All are discharged service men, but there is no military aspect to the school.

The first batch of students to arrive were mostly from cities. Some of them disliked the quiet life. Shortly a batch of "trainees" from agricultural communities will be brought in and with their arrival it is believed the morale of the entire student body will be strengthened.

TRAIN SERVICE IS CHANGED AT BURBANK

Schedules Since Sunday Advance Arrival and Departure Times

BURBANK, Feb. 16.—Some changes have been made in the train schedules which effect Burbank. Beginning last Sunday the train from San Francisco, which has been arriving at 10:15 p. m., will hereafter be due 15 minutes earlier. This train stops here to discharge passengers from San Francisco.

The Oxnard local from Saugus, which has formerly been due at 10:35 a. m., will arrive 5 minutes earlier.

Number 108 from Fresno now makes better time than previously for it is due here at 6:15 p. m., instead of 7:53 as formerly. This is a regular stop train.

THE SHAFFERS GIVE VALENTINE PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Shaffer of 1146 East Colorado boulevard entertained a few friends with a valentine party on Tuesday evening. Those present were Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Oliver of Mt. Helena street, Miss Madge Kelsey of South Victoria street, and Frank Jacoby, proprietor of the East End grocery store. Flinch was played and much enjoyed, after which snap surprises and delicious refreshments in valentine colors were served. All voted that it was the most enjoyable valentine party they had ever attended.

CORRECTION

A typographical omission in the report, printed in Monday's Press, of the meeting of the Eagle Rock Women's Twentieth Century club, so changed the meaning that it becomes necessary to rectify the mistake. The sentence, "The president, Mrs. M. T. Lee, then turned the meeting over to Mrs. A. C. Fisk, chairman of literature, who has had 16 books published, one of which has reached a sale of over 9,000,000 copies," should have read, after the mention of Mrs. Fisk, "She introduced Mrs. Gene Stratton Porter, who has had 16 books published, one of which has reached a sale of over 9,000,000 copies."

RIP ON SCREEN

A great treat has been secured for old and young in Eagle Rock by the managers of the weekly moving picture shows in the Central school auditorium. On Friday of this week "Rip Van Winkle," immortalized by Joseph Jefferson, will be shown at a special matinee in the afternoon, at 3:30, in addition to the usual evening performance. It will be preceded by a good comedy. Such an entertainment should bring the people of Eagle Rock out in full force.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

One of the pleasant fortnightly card parties given by the Eagle Rock Women's Twentieth Century club will take place on Thursday evening of this week and both "500" and bridge will be played. The hostesses will be Mrs. Herman Claussenius and Mrs. Carl D. Nissen. A cordial welcome is extended to all card players in the valley. The charge of 30 cents includes war tax, scores, and refreshments.

CIRCLE GOES VISITING

On Friday, February 17, the auxiliary organization of the Eagle Rock chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, called the Circle, will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Maude Hess, 2643 Loosemore avenue, Los Angeles. Members are requested to phone Lincoln 2986 for luncheon reservation. These monthly meetings are greatly enjoyed by the members.

H. H. GRAVES.

Death came Monday noon, after a brief illness, to H. H. Graves, field man of the Eagle Rock Water company, who resided on West Park avenue. He came home Saturday evening feeling as well as usual, but was taken ill with heart trouble in the night. He was 56 years of age. Four years ago he came to California from Denver, and soon made his home in Eagle Rock, where he leaves a wife. A son, Howard Graves, lives in Anaheim, and two sons, Elmer L. and Lynus O. Graves, are in Colorado. They are expected here for the funeral, which will take place Saturday at 2 o'clock, in the parlors of the Eagle Rock branch of the C. F. Lamb undertaking company, C. D. Goodale, manager, at the corner of South Central and East Palm avenues. The services will be conducted by the Highland Park lodge of Odd Fellows. Interment will be at Forest Lawn. Mr. Graves was a kindly man, who will be missed by his neighbors and coworkers.

JOHN BURROUGHS' PHILOSOPHY IS PULPIT TEXT

Rev. Isaac Preaches Upon It at Congregational Church

Many admirers of the famous naturalist, John Borroughs, attended the Sunday evening service in the Congregational church to hear the pastor, Rev. E. Morgan Isaac, review the last book published by the lifelong lover of nature, under the title of "Accepting the Universe." Only four present had as yet read the volume which is one, the pastor said, to be kept on the library table and absorbed thoughtfully, a little at a time.

The book, Rev. Isaac stated, has created a great deal of comment. In the preface, the author declared that his years of study had proved to him the goodness of the universe, notwithstanding the surface appearance of evil in some of its conditions. This is the basic thought throughout the volume. Burroughs said that one of the difficulties men have in thinking of God and nature is that they have separated the two, they put God apart from His creation. How can the universe and its attributes be put outside of an omni-present God? The poet tells of the beauties of nature, but the naturalist takes nature all to pieces and says no moral quality can be found in the universe outside of man. For instance, in what is at first a most beautiful day, appealing to all the finer senses, suddenly may come a wrecking tempest with its aftermath of heartbreak and financial loss. Again, such tragedies as that of the Titanic, which convulsed the civilized world, occur, and the question is asked, why did not God direct the course of that vessel from the iceberg? It was because nothing is created for individuals, it is all a part of nature, and nature never loses, but always wins. Everything is done according to law. Yet everything works for good in the long run.

The author shatters Darwin's theory of survival of the fittest, saying it may be so in nature, but not with humanity. Weeds overcome the grain in the vegetable kingdom. He says there is no evil in the natural world, that is a mental concept. What seems evil is only a part of good. A picture can not be made all light, there must be shadows. The shadows we see in life and call evil are equally a part of good. In treating of the moral realm, Burroughs asserted that the moral sense in humanity is the highest point in earthly evolution. Animals do not possess it. That individual consciousness can not violate social consciousness, is an eternal fact. Individually we largely make our own good and evil world. While all this is true and Darwin, Huxley, and other great thinkers were afraid to acknowledge there is an ordering force, Burroughs said we must believe there is an infinite cause for all these things, this prevailing law. He had faith in the utimate outcome of everything as he painted the glories of the universe, and declared it was good to come to this beautiful earth and good to go from it to a higher phase of evolution. He was persuaded that man without religion falls short of a spiritual ideal, that the man who has not religion is like a plant that never blooms.

"This book," concluded Rev. Isaac, "gives an idea of the thinking of the world to day. Its author has given expression to thoughts that lie in the minds of many persons who lack the ability to express them."

C. of C. INITIATES DRIVE FOR LIGHTS

The publicity committee of the chamber of commerce, pursuant to the action taken at the last meeting of the chamber, in favor of placing an electric sign at each boulevard entrance to the city, of which there are three, is now soliciting subscriptions for the $2,000 required and urges a generous response from Eagle Rock residents in aid of such an attractive advertisement. Mail checks to Chamber of Commerce, care of the Publicity Committee, Eagle Rock.

EAGLE ROCK PERSONALS

Mrs. Helen D. Smith of Wilmette, Ill., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Margaretta C. Tripler, 144 West Lawrence avenue, and will remain for some time.

Mrs. E. K. Wells and her daughter, Mrs. Gill, formerly Miss Mary Wells who used to live in Eagle Rock and have many friends here, have come from their present home in Missouri to make an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Page from San Diego, the grandparents of George Willey, of the electrical firm of Willey & Haimbaugh, have taken an apartment at 140 North Central avenue, and Mr. Page will do the bookkeeping for the firm.

A former newspaper man in the East and in Oregon and Washington, who has since been in the real estate business in Los Angeles, has taken up his residence in Eagle Rock and opened an office for the sale of real estate at 730 East Colorado boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Schuler have sold their pretty new home at 122 North Sumner avenue to Mrs. H. M. Steele and her daughter, Miss Harriet M. Steele. The Schulers have moved to 215 Myrtle avenue. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Meyer have arrived from Red Wing, Minn., to spend the rest of the winter with their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Meyer, at West Ellenwood drive. They left a temperature of 20 degrees below zero.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Collins, residents of Kentucky, are spending the winter in Eagle Rock, having taken rooms in the home of Mrs. S. J. Mason, on West Colorado boulevard.

Future residents of Eagle Rock are Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lewis and their children, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, who are here this winter and have had a very attractive house built on the corner of West Ellenwood and Los Flores drives. They are obliged to go home this spring to settle their business affairs, but will return to remain permanently.

In mission style, a cement house of five rooms will soon be completed on the northwest corner of Hill avenue and Ellenwood drive, for Mr. and Mrs. J. Case of Los Angeles. It has arched ceilings and the walls will be frescoed.

CONGREGATIONAL ACTIVITIES

On Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the monthly meeting of the missionary society of the Congregational church will take place, in the church parlors. Mrs. C. W. Young, president of the society, will preside.

"The Christianity of Jesus," will be the subject of the midweek lecture in the Congregational church at 7:45 p. m. On Thursday evening the officers and teachers of the Sunday school will meet in the church.

MR. DORRANCE HERE

George T. Dorrance, father of Walter H. Dorrance, one of Eagle Rock's school trustees, has come from Jackson, Mich., to make his home with his son and wife at 128 North Acacia avenue.

The school dramatic society was giving its first performance of the season, and the play they had chosen for the momentous occasion was "Julius Caesar."

All went smoothly until Caesar's dead body was brought in, and Mark Antony had to deliver his famous speech.

He put his heart into the part, and the audience felt acutely for the poor citizens, who were all presumably horror-stricken and overcome with grief, when Antony gently but firmly grasped, as he thought, the face cloth, and slowly, very slowly, began to draw it back.

Just then an excited whisper came from the other end of the corpse:

"This end, you idiot!"

He perservered, and then suddenly disclosed to the intently gazing audience Caesar's shoes.

CHANGES IN TAX ARE ANNOUNCED

Collector Carter Explains New Government Collections

"With the repeal of the revenue act of 1921 of the so-called 'luxury tax' on articles of men's and women's wearing apparel and other changes in tax legislation, the bureau of internal revenue has issued new regulations (47 and 48) relating respectively to the excise tax on sales by the manufacturer of certain articles—automobiles and accessories, cameras, candy, fire arms, cigar and cigarette holders, liveries, hunting garments, carpets, rugs, trunks, etc.—and the excise tax on works of art and jewelry," said Collector Carter of Los Angeles, today.

"The principal changes in the latter taxes are that the tax on works of art is reduced from 10 to 5 per cent and that the tax on jewelry and similar articles, which remains at 5 per cent no longer includes gold or silver ornamental glasses and spectacles. The tax on works of art attaches on all sales except the original sale by the artist, a sale to an educational or public art museum and sales by dealers for resale.

While the tax on musical instruments has been repealed, certain instruments such as coronets, clarinets, etc., if made of or ornamented with silver or other precious metal are taxable.

"Fountain pens equipped with gold pen points are also taxable.

"Monthly returns and payments of the tax on works of art and jewelry are required of the vendor.

"Section 904 of the revenue act of 1921, which in the revenue act of 1918 included the tax on certain articles of wearing apparel, provides only for a tax of 5 per cent of the amounts paid for the following articles in excess of the following prices: Carpets, $4.50 a square yard; rugs, $6 a square yard; trunks, $35 each; valises, traveling bags, suit cases, hat boxes used by travelers and fitted toilet cases, $25 each; purses, pocketbooks, shopping and hand bags, $5 each; portable lighting fixtures; lamps of all kinds and lamp shades, $10 each; and fans, $1 each. This tax is not payable by the purchaser, but by the manufacturer, producer or importer, who is required to make monthly returns and payment.

Copies of regulations 47 and 48 may be had on application to the office of Collector of Internal Revenue, Federal Building, Los Angeles, Calif.

YORKTOWN FOUR AT THE GLENDALE

Owing to the illness of Jack Gardner, the popular super-vaudeville headliners, Louise Dresser and Jack Gardner, billed to appear at the evening performance at the Glendale theatre, Friday, will be unable to keep their engagement, but will appear a little later prior to their leaving to fill their engagement on Broadway, New York. It is quite likely that Miss Dresser will appear, however, and announce from the stage to their many friends who may not be advised of this change of arrangement, the regret they feel at this disappointment. Manager Howe has secured for Friday evening in their stead, The Yorktown Four, a quartet of vocalists who have made many friends over both the Orpheum and Pantages circuits through their presentation of popular vocal numbers.

Stop Worrying About Kidneys
Prove in few minutes that your Backache is only Lumbago. Try St. Jacobs Oil

Kidneys cause backache? No! Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica, or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil. Rub it right on your painful back, and instantly the soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of St. Jacobs Oil from your druggist, and limber up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache or lumbago pain.

Rub old, honest St. Jacobs Oil whenever you have sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism or sprains, as it is absolutely harmless, and doesn't burn the skin.—Adv.

Truths in Epigram

Wisdom is oftimes nearer when we stoop than when we soar.—Wordsworth (1770-1850).

Kings are like stars—they rise and set, they have the worship of the world, but no repose.—Shelley (1792-1822).

Love is ever the beginning of Knowledge as fire is of light.—Carlyle (1796-1881).

A MONSTROUS MENACE

Russia is a threat to the civilization of Europe. It is planning to overrun the continent, and its passage would be the doom of nations, a danger to the whole world. There is no wisdom in blinking this patent fact.

Bolshevism in its ascendency has been the most gigantic tragedy and the most overwhelming failure ever chronicled. Ancient powers have become mighty, have fallen, have almost faded to legend. In the old days the social strata that were included in civilization were few, and the area dominated was small. There was no real freedom. When a wave of barbarism swept across and effaced the culture and achievements of the age, the loss was vast, momentous. But the edifice that had been reared was comparatively small. Its crash was nothing compared to the crash that must ensue if in this day the savagery of Russia shall be permitted to cross all restraining barriers. Such a catastrophe would mean the extinction of Europe, and in its place a social condition worse than is recorded in the annals of history.

The Russian army is four million strong. It is not made up of the soldiers who in the late war contributed nobly to the salvation of liberty. Those men perished in almost countless number. The bolshevist soldiers of today were boys in 1914. After the revolution, or incident to it, they joined the army. They live by pillage. Having been instructed to take what they wanted, and embarked on a life of robbery, they know no other life. They desire no other. They will not work, never have worked.

Russian millions not in the army cannot work. If they produce, all they produce is confiscated. The country has reached a stage of utter collapse. Its factories are in ruins, its transportation a wreck; there is no seed for the lands that have been turned back to desert wastes. Even the thefts of the army are checked by the circumstance that nothing is left to be stolen. Bolshevists seek a new and larger field. Meanwhile they plot to bamboozle charity into sustaining them.

France has been censured for its fear of Germany. There would be no reason for fearing Germany alone. It is the union of Germany with Russia that is viewed as a possible horror—for it could be nothing less. The elements in Germany that seek such union are precisely similar to the elements that sought and won sway in Russia. The better part of the German people would be helpless under bolshevism. Germany in turn would become a waste, harboring a turbulent and lawless horde. What could stop the advance of the millions of Russian outlaws strengthened by the addition of millions of German outlaws? All engaged in destruction, devouring the substance as they passed, they would write finis to the story of European civilization. Why not? The Russian bolshevists themselves have slain the spirit, the prosperity and the hope of their own land.

It is singular that in the United States paid propagandists of the bolshevist terror go about scattering their poison. They are on the lecture platform. They write in magazines that otherwise are decent and able. They befoul with their doctrines the reputable American home. When they are rebuked by the sane press or the unbought speaker, the parlor bolshevist, he or she, comes hissing and venomous to their rescue.

If bolshevism could be confined to Russia, ultimately it would die out. If it cannot be so confined, the world may as well admit the truth that it is in no part safe, and that as to Europe, ruin and desolation are the sure promise of the future. And yet the nations, with this certainty pressing upon their senses, carp and haggle over matters relatively inconsequential.

The problem before them is that of life or death.

THE THIRTEENTH JUROR

A woman was chosen to be the thirteenth juror in a case now on trial. She was asked if she was not apprehensive concerning the number thirteen, and replied that except that it came between twelve and fourteen, it did not mean anything to her.

It is refreshing to know that so sensible a woman has been selected for a position of importance.

Superstition is more prevalent than most persons suppose. It may not be said that this particular superstition is worse than others, for in the quality of foolishness, which is the solitary quality they possess, they are all equal.

It is possible to make a sort of defense of the superstition that forbids passing under a ladder. The ladder might fall just then, or a carpenter might drop his hammer, or a painter overturn his pot of pigment.

Thirteen is as sound and wholesome a number as there is. Nobody grows to maturity without experiencing a thirteenth year. No month on the calendar gets by without its thirteenth day, yet the years and months roll on in steady procession. Disaster does not mark the thirteens, not even when the thirteenth day of the month appears in conjunction with Friday of the week.

Many unnecessary questions are asked of prospective jurors. Probably these do not include one touching the talesman's view of thirteen as a portent of catastrophe. But any talesman betraying such superstitious belief might be challenged as mentally below the necessary standard.

FALL IN DIAMONDS

A cut in the price of diamonds has been announced. This affects only the small stones that amount to about a fifth of a carat when polished. It is said the reduction is due to a hope thus to revive the diamond trade. To most people this explanation will seem surprising. They had no thought that the diamond trade was in need of stimulant. They had been led to believe that the dealer in these precious stones was doing quite well. Never before had there seemed to be such a display of diamonds, in this country at least, as at present.

At any gathering to be classed as fashionable, fortunes in diamonds gleam lustrous and abundant. The busy burglar who enters the residence of almost any well to do family, emerges with thousands of dollars' worth of diamonds. It is no uncommon circumstance for the casual highway robber to vanish into the night bearing the $1000 stick pin of his male victim, and a few rings belonging to the unfortunate lady in the case, which she explains to the police, were valued anywhere for $500 up, to say nothing of a lavillaire by which a princess might have been decked, if the kingdom happened to be prosperous.

To persons engaged in the production of diamonds an increase of trade would be welcome of course. The public draws the inference that the increase is essential, and the idea comes as a surprise.

THE JUST JUDGE

That a just judge would run away from the consequences of his own decision seems unlikely. Therefore the Oklahoma judge who vanished to escape popular wrath and at a safe distance, resigned, will be viewed with suspicion. It appears that a grand jury had been drawn for the special purpose of bringing indictments against certain bankers concerned in a failure that caused much loss, and did not bear the aspect of having been legitimate or necessary. The judge dismissed this body without permitting it to act. The community united in a roar of protest, and the judge went away before the indignation had found some form of expression that might have involved his physical discomfort.

The thought that any judge would seek escape in the manner of a fugitive from justice, after he had rendered a proper decision, or a decision that he himself deemed proper, is grasped only with difficulty. When Shakespeare wrote that conscience doth make cowards of us all, he made no exception of the judiciary.

When a judge interprets the law according to the spirit and letter, he is not blamed, even if the law itself is obnoxious. He is doing his duty, and the community could not refrain from endorsing his course without betraying its own rather low morale. This, any righteous judge would stay and defy.

Of course if Oklahoma were in a mood to elevate the bench by elevating the occupant to a station not permitting his toes to touch the ground, a judge would be justifiable in removing his person otherwhere. It does not seem that the people intended lynching anybody.

That judge will have to prove that he was not dodging his conscience instead of his constituency, before he can be restored to confidence.

WANTED: COMMON SENSE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

To the stated prayers to be read in churches there should be added a prayer for common sense, a commodity of which this weary and troubled world is much in need.

For instance, in the Congressional Record for November 7 a congressman has "An Extension of Remarks," in which is published a list of names of the men reported by the draft board as deserters. This list fills more than seventy pages of fine type solidly printed. It is not only an unnecessary, wasteful performance but it is a wicked one.

It is not a list of convicted persons. Of the ten thousand persons on the list submitted by the war department less than one name in three hundred is that of a person against whom the charge of being a slacker can be proved.

Would not good, common sense have dictated before citizens are stigmatized as guilty of a crime they should be tried and convicted?

Item two. When a battleship costing several million dollars is out of date, and it does not take it long to become so, why sink it or blow it up? The junk dealer's wagon is always going around the streets to collect old iron. Why not follow Mr. Henry Ford's suggestion and sell the worn out battleships to the foundries?

Item three. Why did it take so long for congress to adopt the principle of the budget? On last November 5th congress had a unique experience. Instead of receiving exorbitant demands from each executive department, each seeking to get as much as possible for itself, it received a carefully prepared budget made on a reasonable basis by one government power after a thorough examination of each department's requests. It took us over one hundred years to make that little bit of common sense come to pass.

Item four. Why do we continue to take up valuable time in deliberative assemblies by reading minutes and by three times reading bills viva voce, a holdover from the days when nobody was able to read for himself? All that is needed is to print these things and let them be examined and corrected if necessary.

Item five. Why do we continue using cumbersome and expensive election machinery when the whole business of elections could be handled through school boards and all voting be done in school houses?

Item six. With the present perfection of the mail system, why should not voting be done by mail? Is there any more reason for a man to cast his vote bodily than there is for insisting that he personally go to the bank in order to get his check cashed?

Item seventh and last. The most important teaching in the world is moral teaching to children. Why do we leave this to a lot of school girls and other inexpert Sunday school teachers, while we pay large salaries to professors of Greek and mathematics?

THE LISTENING POST

Among other birthdays of distinguished men in the month of February is that of Thomas A. Edison.

Who has just reached and passed his seventy-fifth anniversary.

And who looks forward with joy to another fifteen years.

After that he does not predict.

And he is not worrying about it.

Like Emerson was when "too busy with the crowded hour to fear to live or die."

Edison is not fretting about what happens after ninety.

But he intends to keep busy for the time he is here.

Just now in the Children's Room he is smiling good naturedly.

With a deep think line down the center of his forehead.

And the dome of his head with lots of room for brains.

And all the room occupied.

The Children's Room, as you may or may not know, is next door to the Listening Post place.

Indeed, it is a kind of Listening Post.

A place out in front, ahead of the lines, where you may see and hear what is going on.

If you have imagination.

For it is full of the likenesses of friendly people who have achieved.

* * *

And any time you wish you can go out there and get a bit of inspiration.

You can learn what some man or woman did with courage, persistence and fidelity.

And a bit of knowledge.

Edison is among them.

And he has solved the problem of happy life.

Because he is a useful man who has found joy in his work.

As we have been preaching here for a long time. As long as the Listening Post has existed.

* * *

Some one suggested a day or so ago that Edison ought to be happy.

Look at the fame he has.

Look at the money he makes.

Look at the opportunity he has.

* * *

Well?

He probably does not think of fame at all.

His tastes are simple, and money is perhaps not as important with him as we may think.

And he has opportunity—to work.

Which is an opportunity open to all of us if we will accept it.

* * *

The man who grudges the world his labor has lost the secret of happiness.

The man who renders the world service with joy has the secret.

It matters not whether he is Edison.

Or the fellow who washes the windows with a great rub and a shine and a whistle.

* * *

Who is not looking forward to retirement.

Who is looking forward always to more useful endeavor.

Spirited labor is the most stimulating thing in the world.

It sets the pulses bounding and makes the eyes light and the heart glad.

And who has ever been weary with bounding pulses and bright eyes and a glad heart?

* * *

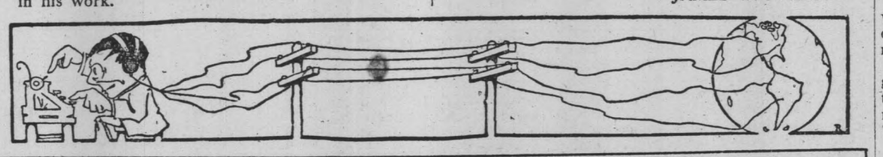

It is the treadmill pace that kills.

Starting and moving and stopping and always in the same place.

But who makes each a day a little advance is not a treadmill worker.

He has the secret of happiness within his grasp.

JAMES W. FOLEY.

SONGS OF THE POETS

"She Is Far From the Land"—By Thomas Moore (1779-1852)

She is far from the land where her young hero sleeps,
And lovers are round her, sighing:
But coldly she turns from their gaze, and weeps,
For her heart in his grave is lying.

She sings the wild songs of her dear native plains,
Every note which he loved awaking—
Ah! little they think, who delight in her strains,
How the heart of the minstrel is breaking.

He had lived for his love, for his country he died,
They were all that to life had entwined him;
Nor soon shall the tears of his country be dried,
Nor long will his love stay behind him.

Oh! make her a grave where the sunbeams rest,
When they promise a glorious morrow;
They'll shine o'er her sleep, like a smile from the West,
From her own loved island of sorrow.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

Admiral Fiske is a brave man. He has declared that it is because of women that wars are fought. Women, he states, want luxuries. Men want to get the finery for them, and so go into the struggle for money and the rivalry for foreign markets which are the real root of war. Men have simple tastes and of themselves would not be tempted to do this.

Somebody page Adam! Here is a chum of his, a man after his own heart. "The woman tempted me—" the cry of the ages.

It may be that the worthy admiral has not noted the signs of the times. It may be that he does not realize the new trend of progressive womanhood as regards her sphere of activities and the way of supplying her desires. All over the country women are going into business—succeeding, too. They are opening modiste and beauty shops, managing stores and factories, entering law offices and the courts of justice, political circles, and pulpit platforms. They earn their own money, they supply their own luxuries. And not all men have those "simple tastes." No, indeed!

One clever woman has even suggested that the cult of "Albertism" be acknowledged, in contradistinction to that of Victorian days. Queen Victoria's consort, we remember, left the ruling of the English nation to his spouse, preferring to occupy himself with domestic and social interests. Without doubt there are many men today who would prefer Albertism to fighting their way to commercial success. Why not let them have their way, and sufficient honor for it, while modern womanhood is forging ahead outside the home?

Wake up, Admiral Fiske! We may sometimes have been guilty in the far past, but we're rapidly changing. No longer need wars be fought on our account!

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

WHAT'S IN A NAME, ANYWAY?

[Philadelphia Public Ledger]

Proud man, dressed in a little brief authority, cannot force woman to take his name or call herself Mrs. when she marries him, though as a rule she does. This fact was discovered by the still lamented Lucy Stone, who kept that name long after she was most conventionally and stodgily married. A lot of nice girls who have been married since have heard of Lucy and have formed themselves into the Lucy Stone league; and when they heard that Elsie Hill, daughter of the late Ebenezer, a solid Connecticut politician, who never worried his head about anything but the tariff, was going to keep her old name after her marriage, they sent her their congratulations on her manly stand and invited her to join in. Miss Hill replied in stern and lofty language, indicating her intention to do so and make an issue of it.

Here on this side we applaud the nice girls who keep their old names, as we also applaud the nice girls who don't. Every girl to her taste. The silent law looks on with indifference, but not we. We like both Miss Ruth Hale, president of the league, is an especially nice girl; and Jane Grant, the secretary, is equally so. They are both solidly and comfortably married to honest gentlemen whose names are not Hale or Grant. But why the solemnity; why the uncompromising front, the stern determination? Why does Miss Hill face the enemy so grimly? There really isn't any enemy. Why form a league? We're all for the girls anyhow. It's not so long since Senator La Follette's daughter was making quite a to-do over her determination to keep her unmarried name, but nobody else seemed excited. We beg Miss Hill to reflect before she starts anything.

WHY VOLSTEADISM COMES HIGH

[New York World]

William H. Anderson's estimate of the cost of enforcing the dry laws makes suggestive reading. Not only has "more than $100,000,000 of public funds been spent in giving prohibition a fair trial through the operation of federal, state and local enforcement," but an expenditure of $1,000,000 a year "will be necessary for some years to come to get the facts to the people."

The figures furnish a measure of public antagonism to this oppressive legislation. One hundred million dollars to bring about Volsteadism and $1,000,000 annually for private propaganda in its behalf by the Anti-Saloon league! Has any other law on the statute books of the United States ever cost a tithe of this sum or required the services of a private society to terrorize the people to support it?

Other laws are enforced through the regular functioning of government machinery. To "give prohibition a fair trial," on the contrary, necessitates not only limitless appropriations of money but the employment of extraordinary and external agencies to influence public sentiment. It is the price paid for compelling obedience to a law for which there is little public respect and little disposition to obey.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Kipling said "the human soul is a very lonely thing." So as the moment of dissolution approaches, the soul seeks solitude even as it poises for flight.

HENRY JAMES

It happens, however, that the individual determined upon suicide often seems to desire to take the world into confidence. Sometimes this is done in a manner that wrings the heart. One thinks then, that had the unfortunate given this confidence a little earlier, sympathy would have been stirred, help proffered, and the tragic climax avoided. Perhaps not, however. A moving tale, with a dead man as evidence is more impressive. Suicide is an emphatic gesture.

On a recent day a man entered a San Francisco restaurant and ordered a humble meal, paying for it with his last cent. He devoured the meal, and still sitting at the table, took a dose of poison that left him a corpse in the chair. He did not follow the Kipling rule. This poor soul, doubtless lonely enough for a long time, wanted company at the last.

The incident was curious as well as pathetic. Why a man aware that in a few minutes he was to be dead, should have delayed for the sake of a not very palatable repast, the nutritive qualities of which could have been of no importance to him, there is no way of explaining.

There is a little tong war in the northwest, rival Chinese organizations being engaged in picking off members of the opposition. This they do with great skill, and generally with proper deference to the rights of the innocent bystander.

Chinese are pacific up to a certain point, but when they have reached what they regard as the proper limit, and somebody seeks to push them across, there is something sanguinary doing.

It is not strange that these aliens hesitate about taking their disputes to an American court. They do not understand the process of justice there, and more than likely the courts could not be made to understand the merits of the disputes.

Sympathy, it is feared, will be withheld from the New Jersey saloonkeeper who has lost $100,000 on a bewhiskered swindling game. When friends warned him, he remarked that he had reached the age of twenty-one, and that they might attend to their own business.

It was the "tapped wire" scheme. Confederates of the victim were to play his money according to information that was to be acquired by tapping a wire. Of course there was no wire, and therefore no tapping, but there was something that appeared to be information.

The saloonkeeper put up the sum mentioned. It stayed put. He got no part of it, and never will get any part of it. It may be added that he deserved exactly the lesson he received, although the other rogues charged him pretty high for it.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

We had a sobbing party at our house last night. Every one was in it but me. The sobbers carried so many guns that I played the part of a coward and yes-ed them whenever they looked my way, and when they compelled me to express an opinion I emitted:

"Ah, yes. That is very true."

But I didn't believe a word of it. I was merely afraid. The sobbers were a bishop and a banker and a college professor. Get that combination, if you will—all thinking the same way and sobbing, so to speak, through the same straw. All men who had been accustomed to express themselves authoritatively. All men who were conceded a respectful silence whenever they designed to speak. All men who could wither a poor fish like myself with a single glance. Even without a glance. They didn't have to look my way. I could feel myself wither automatically.

"The world has gone wrong," was the theme of the evening sobbing. "It has no respect for age."

Pish, tush, fudge and nonsense. The world never did have any respect for age. That is, it never had any respect for mere age—for age that lacked a club. The only age this bally old world has ever respected has been the age that kept its hand on the throttle. I was the most respectful son you ever knew until my respected dad horned into one of my early business affairs with a lot of punk advice.

"You are doing that wrong," he said, with a heavy bend of his thick gray eyebrows.

"Anyhow, Dad," I said, "I'm doing it—and I trust you get me."

And I did. And I came out a winner. If I had followed the old gentleman's advice I would have been ruined before I even got started. My father used to tell of how he defied his father when he was a kid. As long as the old man had the bigger muscle he stayed home and ploughed corn. When he felt himself able to defied grandfather and struck out for himself. My wife thinks she respects her mother. But when she happens not to agree with her the old lady is escorted to a metaphorical back seat.

It has always been that way. Age is boss just so long as age can be boss. When age begins to lose its grip——

Well, we love the old folks. And, of course, we respect 'em. But we keep them in their place.

DO YOU KNOW THAT?

READING CIRCLE AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Mutual Benefit reading circle met Wednesday at the public library with about 45 members present. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. A. A. Barton. The review was given by Mrs. Florence Wintersgill on "We Starve Our Own Children and Feed Europe." The author claims that we are very scientific in the feeding of the starving foreigners and allow our own children to go without the proper food.

The nominating committee was elected to select officers for the ensuing year. The next meeting will be held Wednesday on Washington's birthday and the following Wednesday, March 1, will be the annual birthday porty. All members are allowed to bring one guest and are kindly requested to bring enough sandwiches for both.

Mrs. Barton continued the reading of "Moral Education" by Graves and there was quite a bit of discussion on the chapter regarding punishment of children.

MEADOWS GIVE JOLLY SUPPER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meadows of 721 North Brand boulevard entertained a number of friends with a buffet supper and bunko party on Tuesday evening.

Supper was served at 7 o'clock from an attractive table in the center of which was a silver basket containing red roses and acacia blossoms. The playing of bunko followed, high score for ladies being made by Mrs. J. Baum and second by Mrs. W. Walker, both being awarded silver and glass bud vases. Bert Ward won first prize for gentlemen, a deck of cards.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Claude Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Draper, Mr. and Mrs. J. Baum, Mr. and Mrs. W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. C. A. Parker and Mrs. A. J. Winchell, of Winnipeg, Canada.

CENTRAL METHODIST LADIES END DRIVE

Members of the Ladies' Aid of the Central Avenue Methodist church celebrated the end of a drive for new members held at the parsonage Tuesday afternoon at which the losing team entertained the winners.

It was also the birthday of the hostess, Mrs. V. Hunter Brink, which was likewise celebrated. She was presented with a beautiful book and from the members of the women's Bible class received a thermos bottle.

The parsonage was appropriately decorated with flowers and after a Lincoln program, which included the reading of "A Perfect Tribute" by Mrs. Gerrtude Tisdale, refreshments were served by Mrs. Brink with the assistance of a corps of helpers. The drive resulted in 25 new members, bringing the enrollment of the society to 55.

MRS. WEISENHEIMER ENTERTAINS

Mrs. F. L. Weisenheimer of 204 East Acacia avenue entertained on Tuesday afternoon for her two children, Peggy and Stewart. The house was prettily decorated in red hearts and cupids. The afternoon was spent in playing valentine games, after which dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Weisenheimer, who was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Stewart.

The guests were Catherine and Jack Ferry, John Page, Gage and Jack Biron, Betty Hunt, Virginia Rutter, Patricia Phal, Janet aind Betty Mabry, Vera Chase, Catherine Rittenhouse, Ruth Power, and Mary Clare Morgan. Others who were invited but unable to come on account of sickness were Billy and Ellen Retts and Pauline and Lewis (Bud) Scovern.

MASTER M'CORD HAS BIRTHDAY

Master Howard Bond McCord of 224 North Central avenue was host Wednesday afternoon at a theatre party for a number of his friends, in honor of his sixth birthday. The party attended a matinee of "Molly-O" and then returned to his home, where a dainty luncheon was served. The valentine idea was carried out throughout the house with its red hearts and on the dining table were red rose cups and heart place cards, as well as candles and a red centerpiece of flowers.

The children spent the remainder of the afternoon playing games. Master McCord's guests included Dorothy Yousling, Dorothy Martini, Margaret Alma Clint, Edwin Merman and William Alexander.

SIXTEEN SOCIAL AT METHODIST CHURCH

Ladies of the First Methodist church are giving a Sixteen social tonight at the church which gives every promise of proving a jolly and novel affair. Not all of the ways in which 16 will be featured have been given away in advance, but it is known that the affair will begin 16 minutes before 8 o'clock, that the admission will be 16 cents and every 16th patron will come in free. The program will have 16 numbers and the refreshment table 16 things to eat. During the first hour the church orchestra will play and the whole program will provide a good time for every participant.

MRS. MACKIE IS VISITING HERE

Mrs. William Mackie of Milwaukee, Wis., who is a sister of George and Alexander Mitchell, is a guest in the home of the gentleman first mentioned on Kenneth road. She is quite a globe trotter, having relatives all over the world who are always glad to welcome her. Since she was here two years ago she has been in South Africa, visiting a sister in Johannesburg, and has also revisited her old home in Scotland. She will be here for several weeks and may go from Southern California to Canada to visit relatives in Victoria.

MISS SCHINDEL IS HOSTESS

Miss Irene Schindel of 434 West Doran street was hostess Wednesday night at a delightful valentine dinner party. The decorations and games were appropriate to the day and valentine place cards were used. The dining table was centered with a large heart-shaped valentine and covers were laid for Miss Voe Thompson, the Misses Ruth and Irene Schindel, Gus A. Held, Edward H. Smith, Robert E. Jones and George Irving. A most delightful evening was spent in playing games and several musical numbers were given.

MRS. KLING HONORS TWO LADIES

Mrs. Henry Ralston and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery were the honor guests on Wednesday at a five hundred party given by Mrs. Chester Kling, 720 South Maryland avenue, for the cast of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Sweet peas and fern were used in decorating and a very pleasant afternoon was spent in playing five hundred, after which delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Eustace Young was awarded first prize and consolation went to Mrs. H. C. Ayars.

The guests were Mrs. Henry Ralston, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, Mrs. Roscoe Puffer, Jr., Mrs. Helen Hoops, Mrs. W. E. Halstead, Mrs. A. C. Ayars, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. Eustace Young, Mrs. Calvin Whiting, Mrs. O. E. Von Oven, Mrs. Colin Cable, Mrs. Homer Lockwood, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Bert Ward, and Mrs. B. O. Holbrook.

Other guests besides the members of the cast were Mrs. Charles Low of Long Beach, Mrs. J. Marmaduke, Mrs. Fred Biren and Mrs. Charles Robert Hurst, daughter of Mrs. Montgomery.

POLICEMAN EPPS GETS LIFE PATROL

Clarence Epps, prominent member of the Glendale police force, and Mrs. Olive Crumb of 316 Ethel street, were united in marriage on Tuesday, St. Valentine's day, at the home of the latter. The wedding was a quite affair and only immediate relatives of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony. It was expected that the new home now being built by Mr. Epps would be completed, but as it is not they will live at 316 Ethel street until it is completed.

Immediately after the ceremony Mrs. Angelot, daughter of Mrs. Epps, left for Fellows, near Taft, where she will join her husband.

REORGANIZE JAP FRIENDLY SOCIETY

A reorganization of a group which has been known as the American-Japanese Friendly society was effected Wednesday afternoon at the headquarters of the Y. M. C. A. on East Broadway under the title "Board for Christian Work Among the Japanese," with Dr. Julius Soper as chairman and general director, Rex Kelley as secretary and Rev. V. Hunter Brink as treasurer. The board consists of one representative from each of the nine protestant churches.

Plans were outlined for mission work among the Japanese during the coming six weeks. A Sunday school is held every Sunday afternoon in the Tropico Presbyterian church at 2:30, of which Mrs. Van Loon is superintendent, and arrangements were made for visitations to be made by Japanese who are co-operating with Dr. Soper. There will be Japanese preaching twice a month and a social evening under the auspices of the board once a month.

RAISING FUND FOR EDUCATION OF MOUNTAIN FOLK

Wish of Lincoln to Be Fulfilled by Memorial University

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16.—With the co-operation and advise of Senator T. Coleman du Pont, Lincoln Memorial University, near Cumberland Gap, Tennessee, began its 25th year February 12, by initiating a movement to raise $2,000,000 as a permanent maintenance and development fund.

The governors of Tennessee, Kentucky and Virginia, whose states join at Cumberland Gap, where the University is located, became the first members of the honorary committee of governors and distinguished citizens of the United States who are sponsoring this movement to provide adequate means for perpetuating this living memorial to Lincoln.

This institution was established 25 years ago in response to a hope expressed by President Lincoln in 1863 that something be done for the education of the mountain people of the south who had been shut out of the world for nearly two centuries. General Oliver Otis Howard spent the last eleven years of his life in developing the school and in securing a nucleus for an endowment. The institution welcomes to its halls any student, however limited his means or however elementary his education.

Over 700 students are provided for at the University each year. At least 90 per cent of these would probably never be able to attend another school or college. Over 70 per cent earn all or a part of their expenses in the various industrial departments of the school. The courses offered are comprehensive, so far as may be provided by the income from the annual contributions and the small endowment. The primary purpose of the institution is to provide the training needed by the young men and young women of the Southern mountains who have no opportunity whatever in their home communities and who otherwise would be lost to America.

The board of directors of the University are particularly anxious that the present movement for $2,000,000 receive the hearty support of the American people. This effort to set ahead a great school will be carried on largely by former students and graduates of the University, working under the direction of Dr. George A. Hubbell, the president of the University, and the advisory committee.

Among the sponsors who have already pledged their interest and co-operation in securing the fund are Senator T. Coleman de Pont, Senator John K. Shields, Senator Kenneth McKellar, Senator A. Owsley Stanley, Dr. Livingston Farrand, Dr. Charles L. Goodell, Orville Wright, Warner L. Carver, Joe Mitchell Chapple, Charles F. Eager, Congressman C. B. Slemp, Col. Henry Solon Graves, James H. Post, J. R. Ketron, Dr. Randall J. Condon, Dr. F. B. Avery, Dr. A. E. Winship, Eugene P. Fairchild, Arthur L. Garford, Judge U. L. Marvin, William Graves Sharp, C. R. Fulton, Judge J. H. S. Morrison, W. S. Shields, Harry E. Bullock, Clarence W. Watson and Clarence B. Sturges.

CELEBRATE 54TH ANNIVERSARY

men voted to organize under the name of "Elks," died in Leadville, Colo., after a life of theatrical vicissitudes that ranged from touring in affluence at the head of his own company, to being stranded penniless in Denver. There in Leadville his body rested, his grave marked only by a weather-stained inscription was scratched with some sharp instrument, until on April 28, 1889, Boston Lodge, No. 10, B. P. O. Elks, exhumed the body, took it to Boston and buried it there with splendid ceremonial.

In 1922, Elkdom with gifts to charity already totaling more than $20,000,000, stepped out of the role of the purely fraternal organization into the rank of one of America's greatest humanitarian brotherhoods.

William W. Mountain, of Toledo, Ohio, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Order, announced his policy:

"Make every Elk lodge the civic and humanitarian center of the community in which it makes its home."

In Chicago, by Lincoln Park, overlooking Lake Michigan, the Elks are building their $3,000,000 National Memorial to the 70,000 Elks who served the United States in the World War and the more than 1,000 Elks who died in that service. The building will also house the Order's central executive organization, and the National Elks' Magazine.

Only men of 21 years or more, American citizens, are eligible to membership.

The faults of our brothers we write upon the sands—their virtues upon the tablets of love and memory," is Elkdom's motto.

The four cardinal principles of the Order are "Charity—Justice—Brotherly Love—Fidelity."

"I guess we built a little better than we knew," says old "Joe" Norcross, only surviving charter member.

And from the Great Beyond, where those long-dead "Jolly Corks" look down upon this earth, they probably agree with him.

The possibility of a penitentiary sentence is about the only thing that can add to the dangers of football.

which would provide transportation at reasonable rates. "It can be done," he declared, "and the Pacific Electric officials admit it can be done and will cripple their business if carried into effect. Their plea that higher rates are required to yield a fair return on their investment is neutralized by their inclusion "as an investment," and at a high valuation of a right of way which cost them nothing.

The injustice of charging Glendale rates so much higher than those paid by Hollywood and Eagle Rock was also pointed out.

He asked his hearers to have confidence in the members of the city council, men of experience and judgment, of which Glendale is having the benefit. Said he:

"They are honestly trying to solve these problems, upon which the future growth of Glendale depends, and only ask you to be a little patient. Our criticism should be constructive. We all want a sewer system. The only question is where to have it. The most logical system is a gravity system which avoids the heavy expense of pumping, and it must be located where the land needed is not prohibitive in price. There is only one place in Glendale that fulfills all the conditions, but when the council tries to put it there, people object, declaring it will ruin their property. The city councilmen are not endeavoring to ruin any one's property. They are taking the advice of the state board of health and hope to have a bond proposition to put before you in the not distant future. When that time comes I solicit your support for the issue. Glendale will be held back until this problem is solved. Capital will not come here to build hotels and make other needed investments."

As a third problem, Mr. Reeves mentioned the need of some enterprise in which Glendale could unite which would give the city the distinction and advertising which has meant so much to Pasadena since it became known as the Rose Tournament city. He said he believed the thing had been found in Mr. Girard's suggestion to advertise Glendale as the music center of Southern California by giving a great May festival in which all our many musical organizations could unite. This would be marked by musical out-of door pageants, big choral gatherings, programs by great artists like Geraldine Farrar, with whom contracts could be made direct, and other large things in connection, which would draw the attention and attendance of the world. Said he:

"It might have many ramifications and it looks to me as though it could not fail to be a splendid thing for this city."

WHAT A USE FOR A MOUSE'S TAIL!

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by Associated Newspapers)

"My folks?" Dr. Muskrat had a sly twinkle in his eye. "My folks? When anything goes on anywhere don't some of my folks always manage to be there?"

"I s'pose," purred the Widow Squirrel coyly, "that's why you know all about everything."

"But how did they get on the oak-tree raft where our great-great-grandparents sailed through the Big Flood?" insisted Rapple Beaver.

"Tails again," said the doctor. "The seals brought them. But if they hadn't had their tails they'd never have lived to get there. There wasn't any hole in the tree where they went to sleep because it was only a round little, pickery little thorn tree, and they don't have holes unless Gimlet the Woodpecker gets after them. So my ancestors had woven themselves a round little, tight little nest of tough, dry grass and lashed it to the middle of its stem.

"That was the very cleverest thing they could have done. For the waves of the Big Flood could bat the springy branches of the tree, this way and that, but they couldn't snatch the snug little nest out of the middle of it, and the wind could bounce it along the billows, but it couldn't shake the nest out. For why? Because two strong little mousy tails were holding it!

"Yes, the twisty-wisty grass held it long enough for my great-great-grandparents to wake up and find themselves whirling toes-over-whiskers. One of them tried to poke his nose out and see what was going on, but a white-cap slapped him in the face and all but drowned him. Quick as scat he whisked himself around and sat himself up against his front door to keep any more water from washing in. And, of course, he stuck his tail out and felt about for a good firm tail-hold to keep himself plugged in good and tight.

"My folks?" Dr. Muskrat had a sly twinkle in his eye.

"That worked pretty well. But presently he began to feel the whole nest shift. 'Ee-ee!' he squeaked in alarm. 'We're cutting adrift. Bite a hole in your side. Bite it quick and put your tail out.' Of course his mate did not waste any time. And when she got her grip the scheme worked perfectly. So these two wee folks rode safe through the raggingest weather the world has ever seen on mouse-tail cables. But they had to hang on so hard and so long they squeezed their tails out flat—not crossways, like the Beaver's was smashed, but edgeways, like mine is now. And that's the main difference between the mice and the muskrats."

NEXT STORY: WHAT THE MATTER WITH THE MICE IS.

MASTER SCALES OF S. P. PASSES TEST

One of the finest and best scales in use in the United States is the master scale owned by the Southern Pacific company at West Oakland, and which recently passed the stringent government tests and regulations. After undergoing 185 tests with weights from one pound to 80,000 pounds, the scale showed an accuracy of within one and six-tenths pounds, being well within the tolerance allowance of six pounds for 80,000 pounds, and was able to keep in balance while the 80,000 pounds was being run on and off the scale without being wedged.

The scale, which is used for weighing accurately the railroad track scale test cars, is 16 feet in length and is intalled in a 14-foot waterproof scale pit, this care being necessary because of the sensitiveness of the huge instrument. The scale is used about six or eight times a year when the California state department of weights and measures conducts the weighing of all track scale test cars. These test cars are used to test all Southern Pacific and privately owned track scales.

The Dug-out Dwellers

By JOHN BRECK

If some fairy should present the coyote with the magic Cloak of Invisibility I doubt if he would find it much of an improvement on the one he wears. Only a bad fairy would offer him such assistance in pursuit of his nefarious ends, and her power wanes at cock-crow, the very time when old Mom Nature's properly begins. What he would prefer is something to conceal his game when he steps out of her precinct and into your chicken coop.

That is almost your only chance of seeing him. He can nip up a bunny or a wood rat almost under your nose and make off without being noticed. Their camouflage is almost as good as his own, and he is far too crafty to let a patch of white belly-fur gleam in the sun. But when you spy a limp white hen dancing off at a dog trot you hunt madly for your gun.

You never find it in time; by what intuition does he always manage to take you unawares? Once you have him for a neighbor you rather fancy he spends considerable time studying you. You get a distinct sense of being spied upon; each rock and bush seems to have a satiric pair of eyes taking in your goings and comings about your home, the more irritating if you cannot retaliate in kind. For only a few brief weeks in all the year does he own such a thing.

In the hungry winter he may pick up a partner on the principle that two can hunt better than one. when the propinquity ripens into love (some more of Mom Nature's inveterate match-making), he and his mate excavate a dugout to hide their whelps through the period of infant indescretion. Full in the open, it is, yet you will walk past, unseeing, where its door gapes in the shadow cast by bush or stone.

By one circumstance only can you even suspect it; he never hunts near home. Where every third gopher hole bears the mark of his investigations you need waste no time on your own. But where no vandal paw disturbs an overpeaceful hunting ground you are getting warm. If you do find him——?

Then you know where he lay gossiping in the morning sun. You see how he came to point a derisive nose at your dwelling, somewhere in plain view, and murmur to his mate, "These men! Why build lairs a blind crow could not miss, and with plain trails leading up to them? Yah! About those little pigs—I didn't waste my claws trying to dig in last night; I knew they'd be out this morning. Just as soon as that fellow and his team get over the top of the hill I'll bring you one."

The empire of Morocco, quite extensive and with much wealth, is the largest and most important country in the world that is without a newspaper.

Don't argue with a wasp; it always carries its point.

A WEAK SPINE
A deformed, rigid, and out of shape spine, is the cause of many internal afflictions. It is manifested by wry neck, unevenly drooped shoulders, protruding shoulder blade, stooping and sway back, one high hip seemingly due to a short leg; even difficulties of the lower limbs, joints, and feet are due to such weakness; a drawing pain in the back, hip and thighs is symtomatic. LITTLE ENDURANCE BY HELPING NATURE'S EFFORTS TO RESTORE will strengthen and straighten your spine. I will help you, advise you how to do it. SUITE 509, GARLAND BLDG., 740 S. Bdwy. HOWAT, RADICAL, FEARED BY COAL UNION LEADERS

Faced by Insurgency as Strike Date, April 1, Approaches

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—Conservative elements in the United Mine Workers' wage convention tightened their hold on the organization today when the wage scale convention here adopted the final report of the credentials committee without seating Alexander Howat and his followers who had been expelled from the organization.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—Leaders in the United Mine Workers fought vigorously today to prevent their wage convention from going radical.

Faced with the possible necessity of a strike April 1, when their wage contract expires, President John L. Lewis and other international officers were preparing to smother completely the insurgency of Alexander Howat, the Kansas firebrand, and his rebel followers, who were expelled from the organization.

Lewis said internal dissention will jeopardize the union's position in its impending wage fight. He and all his assistants say a solid front is necessary.

A test of strength will come in the report of the credentials committee which is expected to recommend against seating Howat and 125 of his men, who stormed the convention in an effort to be reinstated.

The test will determine to some extent the complexion of future policies of the union, a high officer said. A Howat victory would threaten conservatism. The Kansan says he was "crucified on the cross of injustice" by the international executive board, which deposed him from the district presidency and threw him out of the union.

Administration officials said Howat's victory in appealing from a decision of Lewis on the convention floor yesterday was only "temporary." They said the convention would do as it did last September—sustain the Lewis forces by a vote of at least 941. Howat was silent.

All indications are the recommendations of the wage scale committee for an unrelenting stand to maintain the present basic standard will be adopted by the convention. There may be a few minor changes, but not one of them will favor a reduction.

Even if the recommendations should be approved as the policies of the 500,000 miners, a strike seemed unavoidable unless the government steps in.

Most of the mine operators take the position wages will have to come down peaceably or they will be forced down in a strike. Union leaders feel the government may be forced to act against the operators on the ground they refused to negotiate with the miners as provided in their wage agreement.

HIGH GLEES TO GIVE CONCERT

Combined Organizations to Give Program in Auditorium

The combined Glee clubs of the local high school will give a concert Friday evening, February 24 at 8:15 in the auditorium of the high school. Alfred Castner, soloist harpist in the Philharmonic orchestra in Los Angeles, will play several selections and the entire program wil be one really worthwhile. E. Z. Meeker is in charge of the glee clubs and promises a most pleasing entertainment.

JAMES W. FOLEY

OFF DAYS

When I go visiting somewhere I nearly alwa find
The weather is unusual and not the pleasa kind,
It's always cold and dreary when it should b fine and warm,
The weather people tell about is never up form.
Last week it was just beautiful, next week too, suppose,
But the week I chance to be there it just drizzle pours and snows.
I don't know how it is with you, but it is s with me,
The weather is not ever what folks say it ough to be.

When I have paid good money to hear someone on the stage,
More wonderful than any one in any day or age,
Or if somebody takes me to a golfing match or tea
To hear somebody sing or play, whatever it may be;
I don't know what's the reason, but the song or stunt or play,
My hurt companion tells me, is "a little off today."
No matter what it is they do, or how or why or where,
They never do it near as well as when I am not there.

When I go to the ball game every home-run king about
Walks bravely to the batter's box and bravely he fans out;
The burly foot ball hero, he of national renown,
Is overtrained, I take it, for he fumbles and falls down.
The tenor has a wretched cold, the orator is hoarse,
The cataract is waterless, the speaker without force,
The tire blows out, the engine dies with a faint pop and fizz—
I always seem to strike "off days"—I wonder why that is.

spent in improvements in the territory. It also appeared that a bond issue was voted sometime in 1920 in the sum of $260,000, of which the sum of $76,000 was to be expended in this territory and the people of this district voted on the bond issue with that distinct representation and understanding. Nevertheless not a penny of this money has to date been used to better conditions. It was the consensus of the meeting that it was up to the citizens to look into the matter and see if there was not a way to acquire some of the benefits that the large amount of tax money paid by them and proceeds of bond sales should have assured to them.

The matters were not discussed in a spirit of anger, but more upon the Rip Van Winkle theory, of having been sleeping on their rights and that they intend now to assert their just rights.

After full and able discussion the chairman announced he would appoint committees to solve the various problems and that further meetings, at which all residents of the Verdugo Woodlands district would be invited to attend, would be held. The committee on gas is George A. Cleveland, Jr., chairman; H. B. Woodill, G. D. Mason, S. L. Roland and Colonel Bush. The committee on street lighting is E. C. Boynton, chairman; Joseph Kirkby, H. A. Graves, W. A. Hail and Walter Jones. The committee on street improvements is Dr. J. J. Otey, chairman; G. H. Brackett, C. J. Weed, A. E. Bates, and L. C. Miles. The committee on taxation is S. L. Roland, chairman; C. H. Allison, H. B. Woodill, C. E. Denny and C. J. Weed.

The committee on gas has already held meetings and had some conferences and is now in full swing. With a committee of such caliber results may be expected. The other committees will get to work at once and we hope for worthwhile things from them.

An adjourned meeting will be held Saturday evening, February 18 at 7:30 p. m. at Mr. Estes's store on Canada boulevard at which is expected a large attendance. At this meeting, James M. Rhoades, secretary of the chamber of commerce will be present and speak. It is to the interest of every resident and property owner to earnestly support this movement and the committees assigned to do this work. With gas and other improvements sought, homes will be doubly livable and property values will be greatly enhanced. The improvements sought would bring a great building boom to this beautiful canon country and make this spot the home of 10,000 to 12,000 people in a short time.

It was requested of all residents to turn out Saturday, February 18 at 7:30 p. m. Be sure to remind your neighbors so they won't forget.

NEW TRACT OFFICE AT GLENDALE AVE.

The realty firm of Smith-Babcock-Hamilton has just opened a tract office at the corner of Eagledale avenue and Colorado boulevard. From this office the company will handle its own tract in that section and will also make a specialty of real estate in the eastern section of the city. R. F. Wade, an experienced real estate salesman, will have charge of this office.

This firm has started the erection of two four-room bungalows on their east side tract. These will be finished in about a month and will be placed on the market immediately upon completion.

BUS DECISION IS DEFERRED

the Hollywood matter has been settled.

The Hollywood rate hearing is a rather peculiar situation. While the fares to Hollywood were increased from 5 cents to 10 cents per ride, it is the contention of South Pasadena, Alhambra and Glendale, which are about the same distance from Los Angeles, that they are paying far more per mile for transportation than are the Hollywood people. On the other hand the Hollywood people claimed that one of the reasons they annexed to Los Angeles was to secure a continuance of the 5 cent rate.

The proposition that confronts the highway commission and which will be decided on February 24, is the rearranging of the passenger rates to these various cities. Glendale, South Pasadena and Alhambra are demanding that either their rate be lowered to Hollywood's or Hollywood's be increased to the figures they are now paying. It is a merry little tangle and with the people of the cities in dead earnest the railroad commission will be put to its wit's end to untangle the matter.

In the meantime the Glendale officials will not hold their breath or sit quiet, but will take whatever steps may be taken toward making the bus line a reality.

BALLOON IN CANYON

Some excitement was created in Verdugo canyon this morning by a balloon from the Arcadia balloon school, which sailed north over the canyon about 10 a. m., flying low, bumped into the hills and came down in La Crescenta. It carried army officers, and neither the men nor the balloon were hurt in making the landing. It got away for a sail over the hills about 12:30.

ARBITRATION OF FRONTIER ENDS ERIN DISPUTE

While Officially Tranquil Sniping Battle Kept Up in Belfast

LONDON, Feb. 16.—Warfare between gangs of gunmen representing the Sinn Feiners and Unionists raged in Belfast today, while peace reigned in the territory of the Irish free state.

The British have succeeded in placating Michael Collins, chief of the free state provisional government, who came to London to demand that the remainder of the troops be withdrawn from Ireland. Collins has returned to Dublin, after having accepted the British plan for a frontier liaison commission to allay unrest along the Ulster border and settle territorial disputes. Talk of a coup d' etat by De Valera's supporters to overthrow the provisional government and establish a republic has died down.

But with peace fairly well established in the south, the flames of civil war continue to crackle in the north. Nine persons were killed during yesterday's fighting in Belfast. The death total today stands at 25 dead and more than 100 wounded.

There was hope that the bitterness in Belfast would die down with release of the Ulstermen kidnapped by Sinn Feiners on their recent border raids. Just before he started home, Collins received a message that 11 more kidnapped men had been found by free state authorities and that their release was expected immediately. So far, however, only three of the kidnapped men have returned to their homes.

The Sinn Feiners had fresh cause for grievance in the arrest of three officers of the Irish republican army by Ulster constables in Newry, County Down. This town is claimed by both the Free State and Ulster. It is represented in the Dail by Michael Collins. The I. R. A. officers were taken to the police barracks, searched and detained. This may result in more border raids in reprisal.

AIRLESS AIRSHIPS LATEST INVENTION IN EUROPE

Italian Balloon Expert Would Create Vacuum to Fly Through

LONDON, Feb. 16.—An airless airship dirigible capable of a speed of 215 miles an hour at high air levels is to be constructed in Italy from the plans of Signor Vaugean, leading Italian balloon expert.

Signor Vaugean's ship is to be a vacuum, with three ordinary envelopes, one inside the other. From a perfect vacuum in the inner envelope, air pressure would be regulated in the intermediate and outer envelopes so as to prevent collapse of the airship through the enormous pressure of the outer air.

Italian experts are enthusiastic over Signor Vaugean's invention. It is expected to revolutionize dirigible flying in peace and war.

Instead of using the present gas-filled container, Signor Vaugean has created plans the basis of which is the inner vacuum envelope—lighter, naturally than the lightest gas, from which air would be expelled by means of vacuum pumps. Experiments with vacuum airships have failed because of the enormous pressure of the outer atmosphere, amounting, with a perfect vacuum, to as much as 15 pounds to the square inch, on the outside of the ship.

Signor Vaugean believes he has overcome this by building a ship in three sections, one inside the other. The space between the outside of the ship and the first interior hull would be partly emptied of air. Still more would be pumped from the intermediate envelope. The center bag would be as nearly a perfect vacuum as it would be possible to obtain.

In this way the pressure of the outside atmosphere would be distributed over three surfaces. It would be reduced to less than five pounds per square inch on any portion of the ship.

Signor Vaugean's ship will be equipped with four 300 horse power engines of the type invented by Professor Garuffia. These would burn heavy oil instead of petrol, thereby, with the absence of inflambale hyprogen usually used to inflate airships, eliminating to a great extent the danger of fire.

The engines will serve a double purpose. Besides propelling the ship, they will work the pumps by which air will be expelled from the envelope, so that the vacuum can be increased or diminshed at will in order to make the ship rise or fall.

It is claimed that owing to the novel construction of the hull and to the ship's ability to rise to greater heights than the ordinary airship, reaching levels where the air is more rarefied and therefore offers less resistance, speeds as great as 215 miles an hour will be possible—15 hours between London and New York.

"That fool will drive me mad with his optimism," he stuttered. "He's actually gone off to church with his umbrella!"

There are no breakers ahead of the man who is already broke.

SOURCE OF FOUR WAY PACT ASKED OF PRESIDENT

Resolution Would Penetrate Mines' Circle of Arms Conference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—In an effort to trace to its source the four power treaty, democratic senators will support the Hitchcock resolution asking President Harding to submit complete information concerning the treaty negotiations. Hitchcock's resolution was expected to be called up in the senate today.

Some observers saw in the Hitchcock resolution a democratic breaking away from Senator Underwood's leadership. Underwood has not yet met his colleagues to explain his part in the conference, but has been ill for some days.

The resolution may be adopted by the senate but its sponsors do not expect it will result in an immediate revealing of the history of how the four-power Pacific treaty was made. The story has never been told outside the secrecy of the arms conference. The democrats intend it shall be told, though they expect some difficulty in bringing it out.

Hitchcock's measure asks for minutes, debates, discussion and conversations among the delegates of the four powers concerning the treaty.
